The Collins Chabane Local Municipality joined by the district and provincial Traffic Department launched the Arrive Alive campaign road safety campaign today at Xigalo.

the Arrive Alive campaign road safety campaign will continue until the end of Easter holiday weekend.

The arrive alive Operations started at Xigalo road between Malamulele, Xigalo and Basani in which the Municipality joined forces with Vhembe District Municipality, district and provincial Traffic Department, Road Accident Fund (RAF), Malamulele Police and Malamulele Taxi Association.

Mayor of Collins Chabane Local Municipality, said, due to the road carnage that tends to escalate during this busy period of the year, precautions have been taken by law enforcement agencies to bring down the death toll on the roads.

Maluleke said the operation also entails educating drivers and commuters about road safety, and punishing those who are under the influence of drugs or alcohol. "We want our roads and communities to be safe," he said

"We have police and traffic officers on site to give motorists with outstanding traffic fines a chance to pay them, but those who have warrants of arrests issued by the respective Magistrates' Courts will be arrested," Maluleke added.
